

CONTRACT BOOKS DEMAND IS MADE IN STRONG INQUIRY

Counsel for Supreme Court Justice Calls for Records of Indicted Road Builders.

When the Jenks Legislative Committee, investigating the alleged misconduct in office of Supreme Court Justice Selah B. Strong, resumed its sessions to-day in the chambers of the Bar Association, No. 42 West 44th Street, Joseph V. Ring of Mineola, L. I., a court attendant in Nassau County and Special Deputy County Clerk gave testimony which resulted in a demand by former Senator Edgar T. Brackett, Justice Strong's counsel, for the production of the books of John Both and Andrew Weston, road contractors, indicted in Nassau for filing false claims against the county.

The committee agreed to this, but when Senator Brackett asked in addition that the books be submitted in evidence, the legislators said they would take the matter under advisement and render a decision later.

It was brought out in Ring's testimony that the Nassau Grand Jury had examined the Both and Weston case on Jan. 23 and failed to find an indictment. But on March 22 the indictment was found, and it was shown that there were more witnesses at this later session of the jury than at the first one.

The charge against Justice Strong is that he proceeded improperly and coerced the jury into bringing the indictment. However, Senator Brackett showed that the resolution of Assemblyman Thomas A. McWhinney of Nassau County, which created the Jenks committee to investigate Justice Strong's conduct of office, was introduced on March 17, five days before the Both and Weston indictments were found.

The presence of Both and Weston at to-day's hearing was discovered when Senator Brackett asked whether they had answered the subpoenas of the defense. Then he made his request that their books be impounded so that he might have access to them for evidence in his client's behalf.

Harry C. Perkins of Binghamton, N. Y., counsel to the Jenks Committee, immediately objected.

"Justice Strong is criticized here, to put it mildly, and we want to show by these books that he acted not only within his rights, but that he performed a sacred duty to the public," Senator Brackett replied.

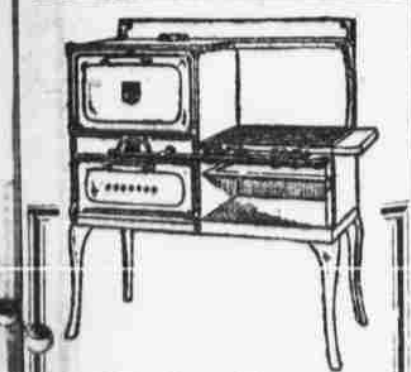

"But this committee isn't here to go into the innocence or guilt of Both and Weston," Mr. Perkins insisted.

CHINAMAN CHARGES AUNT LURED AWAY HIS AMERICAN WIFE

Fan Li Sues Mrs. Ritter for $25,000, Blaming Her for Separation.

Alleging that Marian Ritter, who lives at No. 550 Riverside Drive, alienated his wife's affections, Fan Li, a Chinese, to-day filed suit in Supreme Court against her for $25,000 damages. Mrs. Ritter is the aunt of Mrs. Li, who is an American girl.

Although the papers on file in the County Clerk's office do not disclose all of the reasons for the suit, Li does charge he lived happily with his American wife until the defendant entered their household. He alleges she "maliciously and deliberately" estranged the couple and finally won away Mrs. Li's affections.

He charges, further, that the defendant has induced Mrs. Li to leave her Chinese husband and that her influence over the American girl has perverted him from affecting a reconciliation and her return to the Li household.

The papers disclose that the summons and complaint in the action were served on Mrs. Ritter's attorney, John J. O'Brien, at No. 529 Cortland Avenue, the Bronx.

The letter was written by Morse to his classmates of the Bowdoin College class of 1877, whom he met at the recent commencement reunion. "No police court methods toward assassins could excel that adopted by the Government in our case," says the letter. "Falshood, intimidation and everything else that could in any way affect any one who had ever had any business with us have been used on us."
